

Increase uptime with a Linx printhead

Sealed printhead

All critical components in the printhead are protected in everyday use

3 months between cleans

Unique printhead design and self-cleaning printhead system reduce maintenance intervention and downtime

30% ink saving

Ink costs are reduced by using a standard nozzle size that is smaller than others

Adjustment free

No need for time consuming and complicated nozzle alignments unlike some other CIJ printheads

Simple to clean

No parts to remove, or exposed parts, tubes and wires, so no risk of costly damage

